WELLBEING

The body and brain are so intimately connected as to be nearly indistinguishable. If the body is unwell, it is very difficult to be attentive and responsive in a learning environment. The Thrive@Braemar program offers daily opportunities for students to engage in activities that promote physical health, mental clarity, and emotional centredness, to optimize their learning experience.

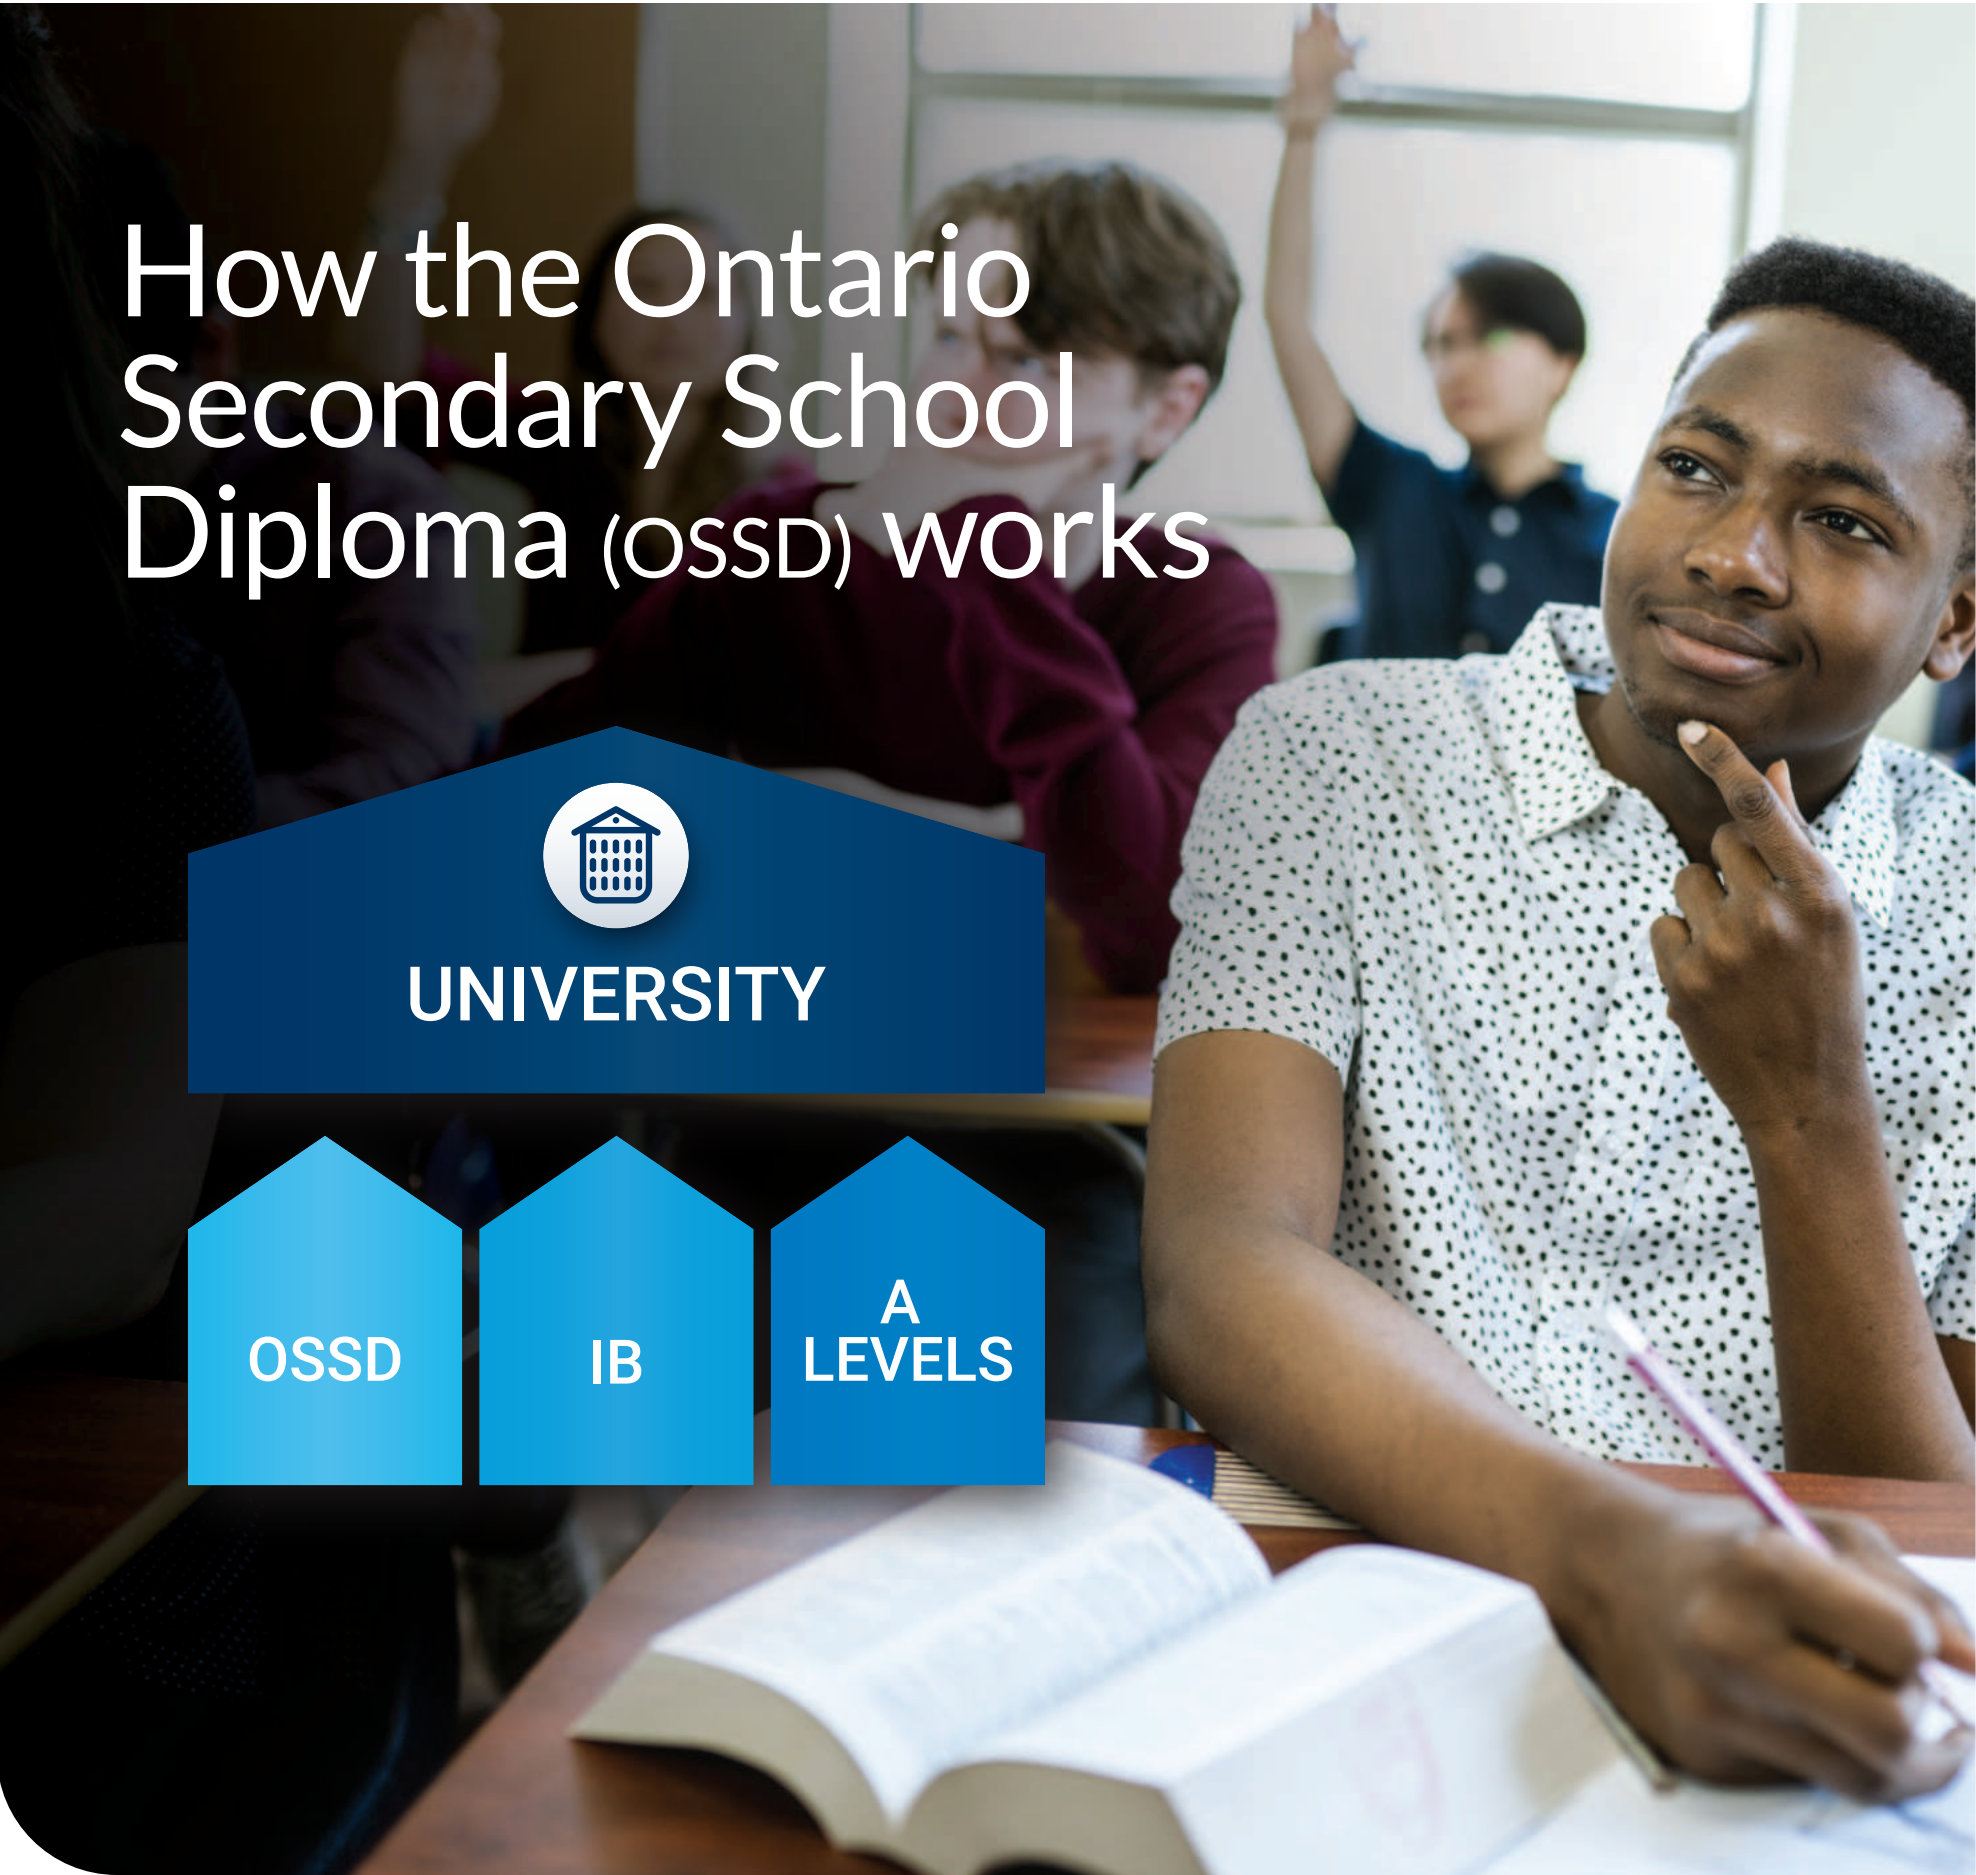

ENGAGEMENT

When the body is right, the mind is free to engage fully. But no one flourishes in isolation. Resilience is achieved through connection with the world around us and the sense of belonging that follows. Thrive@Braemar provides spaces for students to clarify their identities, express themselves, connect with others, explore their environment, and build relationships around shared values and mutual support.

LEADERSHIP

The best indicator that someone is thriving is when they are able to turn their energy and attention outwards, to provide help to others even as they continue to pursue lifelong learning, health and fulfillment. Once Braemar students have established their wellbeing routines and their resilience networks, they are encouraged to expand their scope and consider how their personal strengths might be used in the service of others.

Credit transfer

COMPREHENSIVE TESTING

All students are tested in English and math to ensure they are in the most suitable class.

CREDIT TRANSFER

If you have completed high school work in your home country, the guidance office would grant what are called equivalency credits. Students who have completed grade 11 or higher, and show a high level of ability on the Mathematics and English placement tests, may on that basis receive extra equivalency credits.

PERSONALIZED STUDY PLAN

Drawing on the experience of two decades, our guidance team will draw up a personalized study plan, designed to get you from where you are to where you want to go, giving you, from the very beginning, a clear sense of the big picture.
